

EVIDENCE OF ROBERTS'S PERJURY IS REVEALED.

THREE JOINTS OF HIS BACKBONE OUT

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS FOR UNCLE SAM'S TROOPS.

VICE-PRESIDENT HOBART TAKES MORE NOURISHMENT

COUNT VON MOLTKE OBTAINS HIS DIVORCE.

TERRITORIAL OATH FOR REVISED REGISTRY LIST.

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
COUNTY OF DAVIS, ss. David B. Roberts being duly sworn (or affirmed) depose and say, that I am over twenty-one years of age; that I have resided in the Territory of Utah for six months last past, and in this precinct for one month immediately preceding the date hereof; and that I am a native born (or naturalized, as the case may be) citizen of the United States; and that my full name is Brigham H. Roberts; that I am single years of age; that my place of business is Salt Lake City; that I am (single or married man; that the name of my lawful wife Sarah Louise Roberts and that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and will faithfully obey the laws thereof, and especially will obey the Act of Congress approved March 22, 1882, entitled "An Act to amend Section 532 of the Revised Statutes of the United States in reference to bigamy and for other purposes," and that I will also obey the Act of Congress of March 3, 1887, entitled "An Act to amend an Act to amend Section 532 of the Revised Statutes of the United States in reference to bigamy and for other purposes approved March 22, 1882," in respect of the crimes in said Act defined and forbidden and that I will not directly or indirectly, aid or abet, counsel or advise, any other person to commit any of said crimes.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of August, 1899.
Fred H. Waller
Deputy Registration Officer for Cedarville Precinct.
Persons qualified to vote for Territorial Officers must take this oath (if they have not already done so) before being registered.
(FILE WITH COUNTY CLERK.)

Reproduction of the Oath Taken by Roberts.

(From a photograph specially taken, or the Journal from the original in the County Clerk's office at Farmington, Utah.) The discovery of this document, it is anticipated, will have an important bearing in the casting out of Roberts from Congress. It is an official copy of the registration oath which Roberts took and which has hitherto been sedulously concealed by his friends in official life.

Swore in Registering to Vote in 1895 That He Would Comply with the Federal Laws, and Especially with the Edmunds-Tucker Act Forbidding the Practice of Polygamy.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 6.—One of the most important pieces of evidence yet discovered in the Roberts case was secured today. It is an official copy of the oath taken by Brigham H. Roberts when he registered to vote in 1895.

This document was spirited away from the records of the County Clerk at Farmington, the county seat of Davis County.

Its existence has been denied for months. Repeated inquiry at the office of the County Clerk has been met with the reply that the document was not on file, and that it had been accidentally lost, but it was discovered today in the hands of the County Clerk, who, with ill grace, signed the certification of genuineness.

Objection can rightfully be raised now that Roberts is not only a polygamist, but that he took this oath in order that he could vote, knowing at the time he was committing perjury, and that he never intended either then or at any time in the future to live up to its terms.

Roberts's Ill-Faith.

The members of Congress, it is pointed out, can now see the utter ill-faith of the polygamist Congressman-elect and the sincerity of his swearing to the following statement:

"That I will support the Constitution of the United States, will faithfully obey the laws thereof, and especially will obey the Act of Congress approved March 22, 1882, and I will also obey the Act of Congress of March 3, 1887, etc."

Inasmuch as Roberts states that he will obey this act of Congress, which is commonly known as the Edmunds-Tucker act, and is especially designed for the punishment of the crimes of polygamy, bigamy, adultery, unlawful cohabitation, etc., it is declared that he has especially perjured himself in that respect.

In the very year in which he took this oath, that he had only one wife and that he was not violating the law by living with another, Celia

Robertson, his second wife, gave birth to a child.

Two years later, in 1897, he presented him with the famous twins, and recently presented him with another child.

Admits He is the Father.

Roberts has at all times held her out as his wife. He is acknowledged to be the father and himself avows that he is the father of the twins.

He does not deny that he is now living with the third wife, Dr. Mary Ship-Roberts.

It is generally recognized in Salt Lake City tonight among all persons who learned of the discovery of the oath taken by Mr. Roberts so that he might vote in 1895 that it will be the death warrant of polygamist Congressman-elect's political hopes.

Under the decision the city will flood thirty-six roads, which will form part of several new reservoirs now being built to supply additional water to the city of New York.

The highways to be affected aggregate fifteen miles in length, and are located in the towns of Somers, Yorktown, Lewisboro, Bedford, Cortland and New Castle.

The municipality will construct new roads, which the townships will be forced to maintain.

Saved by Tammany Leaders.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

THE JOURNAL'S ANTI-POLYGAMY PETITION.

Please sign this and secure as many other signatures as possible and attach and send them to the Journal. The time has arrived for sharp, quick and decisive action in the great National movement to cast out an avowed polygamist from the halls of Congress. All who believe in protecting the purity of the home should join this movement at once and send in their names for the monster petition to Congress.

To United States House of Representatives:

The undersigned earnestly petition you to reject or expel Brigham H. Roberts, Congressman-elect from Utah, and to submit a constitutional amendment disqualifying Polygamists from holding office.

Dibble-Roberts, his second wife, gave birth to a child.

Two years later, in 1897, he presented him with the famous twins, and recently presented him with another child.

Admits He is the Father.

Roberts has at all times held her out as his wife. He is acknowledged to be the father and himself avows that he is the father of the twins.

He does not deny that he is now living with the third wife, Dr. Mary Ship-Roberts.

It is generally recognized in Salt Lake City tonight among all persons who learned of the discovery of the oath taken by Mr. Roberts so that he might vote in 1895 that it will be the death warrant of polygamist Congressman-elect's political hopes.

Under the decision the city will flood thirty-six roads, which will form part of several new reservoirs now being built to supply additional water to the city of New York.

The highways to be affected aggregate fifteen miles in length, and are located in the towns of Somers, Yorktown, Lewisboro, Bedford, Cortland and New Castle.

The municipality will construct new roads, which the townships will be forced to maintain.

Saved by Tammany Leaders.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

WESTCHESTER ROADS TO BE TURNED INTO RESERVOIRS.

Supreme Court Issues Order by Which New Roads Will Be Maintained by Townships.

Lawyer Henry T. Dickman, of White Plains, representing the New York Water-supply Commission, today received an order from Supreme Court Justice Barlow approving of the new highway system arranged by the city of New York for the northern part of Westchester County, which will save Manhattan thousands of dollars yearly.

Under the decision the city will flood thirty-six roads, which will form part of several new reservoirs now being built to supply additional water to the city of New York.

The highways to be affected aggregate fifteen miles in length, and are located in the towns of Somers, Yorktown, Lewisboro, Bedford, Cortland and New Castle.

The municipality will construct new roads, which the townships will be forced to maintain.

Saved by Tammany Leaders.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

After fainting three times and asserting before his friends that he was dying, Stephen Rogers, an Italian laborer, of No. 484 College avenue, east yesterday morning became convinced that he was dying, and was laid out.

He had been shot at by an unknown man, but the bullet had passed through his clothing and through a pocket which was stuffed full of Tammany literature. He had only enough force left to make a slight motion of the skin over the heart.

Remarkable Surgical Operation Upon Kaller, a Lineman.

FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE.

Threw Himself From an Electric Wire to Save Himself, Fractured Spinal Column.

Three joints of his backbone. John Kaller, of No. 50 Wiloughby street, Brooklyn, lies on a cot in St. John's Hospital, Long Island City, making a brave fight against death. The missing pieces of his spinal column were removed on Thursday last by five surgeons. It was an operation almost unparalleled in surgery, but it was his only chance for life.

Kaller has been a telephone lineman. Last Thursday he was sent to repair wires along the Shore Road, in Astoria. About noon he was working at the top of a pole near the Woolsey estate.

Just how it happened neither Kaller nor any one else knows, but suddenly the Lineman found himself in the clutches of an electric current. He had grasped a live wire, his body was twisted in torture and puffs of smoke arose from his burning clothes.

The man kept his senses. Hanging there, burning and in terrible pain, he realized that to remain in contact with the wire for but a few seconds more meant death to him.

With strength born of that knowledge Kaller tore himself free from the live wire on which he had fallen and deliberately threw himself to the roadway. He fell thirty-five feet and struck upon his head and back. He was taken to St. John's Hospital and doctors worked over him for eight hours before the dangers from the electric shock were removed. Then they performed the operation.

In failing Kaller had broke his back. The seventh, eighth and ninth vertebrae were badly fractured, and splinters of the broken bone pressed on the spinal cord. The pressure had produced paralysis, and would have caused death if not removed.

Dr. John Francis Burns was in charge of the operation. Assisting him were Dr. H. A. McGroven, Dr. J. J. Maloney, Dr. Thomas Cassidy and Dr. John F. Farwell. Technicians, the doctors took out the spinal column and transverse sections of the seventh, eighth and ninth vertebrae. The operation was successful.

"I do not know of an exactly similar case," said Dr. Burns, last night. "Three vertebrae were badly fractured, and had to be removed by the arches to protect the spinal cord. But Kaller's other injuries make his recovery doubtful, and at my suggestion relatives have telegraphed to his mother, asking her to come to his bedside. She lives in Illinois."

Kaller is now in a grave. At 10 o'clock last night his wife and his brother were with him, and it was feared he would not survive until morning. He has remained conscious from the first and has taken a keen interest in the remarkable operation performed upon him.

NEW EVIDENCE IN THE BERKLEY DROWNING.

District-Attorney Says He Will Take the Case Before the Grand Jury.

Geneva, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Berkley drowning case will be brought before the December term of the Grand Jury. District-Attorney Moran, of Seneca Falls, announced this today. The people, he said, were dissatisfied with the findings of the inquest, and demand a more thorough investigation.

Mr. Berkley, the father of the drowned man, has done nothing, as far as the District-Attorney knows, to bring action against Dickinson or the Kappa Alpha fraternity. Mr. Moran said some evidence which was not brought out at the inquest, but what it is he refuses to say.

Sheriff Clark of New Scotland, was surprised and indignant when he learned of the District-Attorney's statement. He said that after the inquest Mr. Moran said he was entirely satisfied, and would carry the matter no further. Sheriff Clark said that immediately after the inquest Dickinson asked to be arrested and put in jail, thinking that Mr. Berkley might feel better satisfied if some one were held responsible for his son's death.

The Sheriff says no jury could possibly indict Dickinson or any one else for Berkley's death, and that the Geneva people are satisfied that the drowning was an accident for which no one was to blame.

MRS. VICTOR SORCHAN CERTAIN OF ELECTION.

Is Running for Member of School Board on the Democratic Ticket in Newport.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 6.—Newport's municipal election takes place to-morrow. The Summer residents are deeply interested, as they want an administration which will guard their interests. They are paying nearly two-thirds of the taxes. Several of the candidates, including former Commissioner Gerry, of the New York Yacht Club; Isaac Townsend Burden and W. Watts Sherman, New York millionaires, will vote to-morrow.

The principal feature of the election is the candidacy of Mrs. Victor Sorchan, a society woman, for the School Board. Mrs. Sorchan, formerly Charlotte Henshaw, has for years been prominent in all social functions here and in New York. She was nominated by the Democrats, who are in the minority, but tonight it is said she will be elected and have more votes than any of the male members on the Republican or other tickets.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

When a stricture is close to the neck of the bladder, the risk of an operation is always greater, and the danger from hemorrhage, blood poisoning and general sepsis is so common and so alarming that it is almost impossible to make any such operation safe.

Two Transports Will Carry, Without Charge, All Gifts from Friends to Soldiers in the Philippines.

Uncle Sam's soldiers in the Philippines are not to be forgotten on Christmas. Two transports—the Meade and the Logan—are to leave here on November 15 and 20 respectively, and they will carry Christmas gifts for the officers and soldiers of the American army in the Philippines free of charge.

Major Jones, quartermaster in charge of transports, in the Army Building, said each package should be plainly addressed to Manila, Philippine Islands, and be delivered at Pier 22, foot of Pacific street, Brooklyn. The sender's name and address should also be on each package and all packages must be small. None will be received after November 19.

A large number of packages arrived at the pier yesterday, and there will doubtless be a shipload before the week is out.

There was slight change in the condition of Vice-President Hobart at his home in Paterson, N. J., yesterday, except that he was able to take more nourishment than for several days. Chicken broth being added to his limited diet. He rested much, but was bright when awake.

The little improvement noticeable was regarded as only temporary. Among his callers were Richard J. Bright, sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate; R. H. Nixon, financial clerk of the same body, and Judge J. Franklin Fort, of Newark. No one was allowed to see the patient.

Woman Burned While Cooking.

Mary Fitzmaur, eighty years old, is a patient in Roosevelt Hospital, suffering from severe burns of the body, received yesterday afternoon while cooking dinner. Her apron caught fire. The woman and her cousin, Mrs. Ann Fitzgerald, seventy years old, live in the rear of No. 220 West Forty-first street.

A large number of packages arrived at the pier yesterday, and there will doubtless be a shipload before the week is out.

There was slight change in the condition of Vice-President Hobart at his home in Paterson, N. J., yesterday, except that he was able to take more nourishment than for several days. Chicken broth being added to his limited diet. He rested much, but was bright when awake.

The little improvement noticeable was regarded as only temporary. Among his callers were Richard J. Bright, sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate; R. H. Nixon, financial clerk of the same body, and Judge J. Franklin Fort, of Newark. No one was allowed to see the patient.

Woman Burned While Cooking.

Mary Fitzmaur, eighty years old, is a patient in Roosevelt Hospital, suffering from severe burns of the body, received yesterday afternoon while cooking dinner. Her apron caught fire. The woman and her cousin, Mrs. Ann Fitzgerald, seventy years old, live in the rear of No. 220 West Forty-first street.

A large number of packages arrived at the pier yesterday, and there will doubtless be a shipload before the week is out.

There was slight change in the condition of Vice-President Hobart at his home in Paterson, N. J., yesterday, except that he was able to take more nourishment than for several days. Chicken broth being added to his limited diet. He rested much, but was bright when awake.

The little improvement noticeable was regarded as only temporary. Among his callers were Richard J. Bright, sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate; R. H. Nixon, financial clerk of the same body, and Judge J. Franklin Fort, of Newark. No one was allowed to see the patient.

Woman Burned While Cooking.

Mary Fitzmaur, eighty years old, is a patient in Roosevelt Hospital, suffering from severe burns of the body, received yesterday afternoon while cooking dinner. Her apron caught fire. The woman and her cousin, Mrs. Ann Fitzgerald, seventy years old, live in the rear of No. 220 West Forty-first street.

A large number of packages arrived at the pier yesterday, and there will doubtless be a shipload before the week is out.

There was slight change in the condition of Vice-President Hobart at his home in Paterson, N. J., yesterday, except that he was able to take more nourishment than for several days. Chicken broth being added to his limited diet. He rested much, but was bright when awake.

The little improvement noticeable was regarded as only temporary. Among his callers were Richard J. Bright, sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate; R. H. Nixon, financial clerk of the same body, and Judge J. Franklin Fort, of Newark. No one was allowed to see the patient.

Woman Burned While Cooking.

Mary Fitzmaur, eighty years old, is a patient in Roosevelt Hospital, suffering from severe burns of the body, received yesterday afternoon while cooking dinner. Her apron caught fire. The woman and her cousin, Mrs. Ann Fitzgerald, seventy years old, live in the rear of No. 220 West Forty-first street.

A large number of packages arrived at the pier yesterday, and there will doubtless be a shipload before the week is out.

There was slight change in the condition of Vice-President Hobart at his home in Paterson,